Dear Ananda:

This letter sets out the LinkedIn Corporation (“LinkedIn”) and Northeast Regional Computing Program (“NERCOMP”) partnership to offer NERCOMP Consortium Members (“Consortium Members”) a discount to purchase access to LinkedIn’s Learning Solutions services known as LinkedIn Learning (“Services”).

1. Consortium Members will purchase access to the Services directly from LinkedIn under the terms of their existing LinkedIn Subscription Agreement (“LSA”) and a LinkedIn ordering document. If the Consortium Member is a new LinkedIn customer and the Consortium Member is a private institution, the LSA found at this link will govern; <https://legal.linkedin.com/lisa/LinkedIn-Subscription-Agreement> If the Consortium Member is a new LinkedIn customer and the Consortium Member is a public institution the LSA found at this link will govern; <https://www.linkedin.com/legal/lisa-public-sector>.
2. Consortium Member Participation Terms. To participate in this offer, except as set forth in this offer, each NERCOMP Consortium Member must meet the following conditions:
 - a. Be a current LinkedIn Learning customer under the NERCOMP agreement or if not under the current NERCOMP agreement must be a net new LinkedIn Learning customer or a current customer who does not have/has not had a Full Campus LinkedIn Learning solution in place.

LinkedIn will determine whether a Consortium Member is under an existing system or consortium level contract with LinkedIn.
 - c. Purchase LinkedIn Learning’s full campus solution, which is defined as including all faculty, staff and students (“Full Campus”) in calculating the number of learners under any given subscription agreement. The parties agree to work together in good faith to calculate accurate and current full-time employees (faculty, staff, students, and total learners) at each Consortium Member institution. The parties will identify and agree upon a reliable source of information from Consortium Members for this information.
 - d. Commit to a consecutive three (3) year subscription term.
 - e. Execute an order form and if required, the LSA.

- f. Make payments directly to LinkedIn.
